Brooklyn Handleap-One I Love Runs Last-Mr. Selmont Talks to Owners and Trainers - Another Good Two-year-old. Charles Fleischmann & Son's good five-yearold St. Maxim, by St. Blaise, out of Delilah, won the Gotham Handicap at Morris Park yesterday afternoon with such case that he must be reck oned as a most dangerous factor for the Brooklyn Handicap, to be run at Gravesend on June a, and for which he is scheduled to carry 108 pounds, or nine pounds less than he had up yesterday. St. Maxim was favorite, and he carried his followers through in triumph. Not so One I Love, the favorite for the Ladies' Stakes, this beautiful filly running absolutely last in a field of four, and showing plainly that she is far from being at her best. The weather was per-fect for racing, and the attendance was fully 10,000 persons. Before the first race Mr. Belmont had a friendly chat with about seventy-five owners and trainers. He told them how the Westchester Racing Association had borns the burden of the fight to legitimatize racing, and asked them to enter their horses and help to make the meeting at Morris Park s success. Small fields meant poor racing, and indifferent sport meant light patronage. If any horseman had any suggestions to make regarding the framing of a programme he would be glad to have them. Mr. Belmont spoke to the point, and his remarks were heartily applanded

The field for the Gotham Handicap was a real od one, comprising as it did Counter Tenor, winner of the Metropolitan; St. Maxim, beaten only a head for that prize; Keenan, Belmar, Beldemere, and Rubicon. St. Maxim was favorite in the speculation at 11 to 5, but Counter Tenor, Keenan, Belmar, and Rubicon were by no means friendless, and there was a real plunge on the Riemton candidate at post time. Keenan, a colt of majestic proportions, looked like a charger fit to bear one of the knights of old, and Griffin smiled when he heard Doggett boasting before the race that St. Maxim would win. To a good start Beldengere went to the front and set a red-hot pace, Keenan and Rubicon, her nearest attendants, and Counter Tenor and St. Maxim bringing up the rear. Rubicon passed the mare on the upper turn, and as St. Maxim moved up from the ruck, Keenan dropped to the rear division with startling quickness. St. Maxim fairly flew around his field, and was such a race horse that he showed head and head with Rubicon when the race for the goal began. Doggett did not linger, but went right on, and won under a pull by a generous margin. Keenan, under Griffin's vigorous riding, came strongly in the run through the stretch, and in a head and head finish beat Belmar a few inches for second money. Rubicon quit a furiong from home. Counter Tenor did not show speed at any part of the journey. Keenan would have been hard to beat had he not dropped back several lengths on the turn. Many thought that he had sulked, but Griffin said that the big, long-striding son of Lisbon had struck a strip of heavy going hext the rail and couldn't run through it.

There was a perfect craze to support One I Love for the Ladies' Stakes, and had any man predicted that she would be beaten by the commonplace field opposed to her he would have been laughed at and pronounced a worthy object for a commission in lunacy. It was any adds on her, and the race was considered as good as won. The splendid performance of the daughter of Minting as a two-year-old, and the easy manner in which she smothered her field on Thursday, were sufficient reasons for the players to regard her as a certain winner. Cassette went away in front at flag fall, and with One I Love lose up made the running at a sharp clip up the backstretch. Doggett took St. Agnes back, and Littleffed also played the waiting game with Intermission. One I Love moved up on even terms with Cassette rounding the turn, and everybody waited until the moment when Clayton would ask her to go to the front and put an end to the race. Dismay was written on the faces of the talent when, instead of shaking off Cassette, the laster actually gained on One I Love, and there was a hearse murmur of astonishment when Clayton would ask her to go to the front and put an end to the race. Dismay was written on the faces of the talent when, instead of shaking off Cassette, the laster actually gained on One I Love, and there was a hearse murmur of astonishment when Clayton went to the whip. Intermission and St. Agnes closed at this moment, and in a hundred yards on the filip, and the ov went right on, and won under a pull by a generous margin. Keenan, under Isbb eagerly accepted even money against him. Domingo and Aurelian were the most fancied of the others. The webbing on the starting machine was improperly adjusted, or rather it was not the kind which should have been used, lacking the cross bands to hold the strands together, and at the first break one of the piles caucht Griffin under the chin and lacerated his neck. The start was made with the flag with Glenmoyne in front. Aurelian at once rushed into the lead and showed the way until well into the homestretch, where Domingo and Glenmoyne moved up. The latter was foliof running, and it required very little exertion on Hamilton's part to get him to the front. It looked like an easy victory until Tarai went to work on Domingo in earnest. Then the black horse responded in a way that surprised the talent, and Hamilton was riding the favorite at the end to win by half a length. Aurelian was a fair third.

The Messrs. Keene trotted out another smart two-year-old in the second race in Horoscope, a son of Amphion and Fair Vision. He was made favorite over his seven opponents, and won sill the way, going to the front as soon as the machine was sprung and the flag fell, Eldolon, a very good-looking colt, by Iroquois; Stachelberg, by Woodlands, and the Hiemton filly Golden Dream were his nearest attendants. Horoscope won by a good length and a half, with Eldolon second, and Golden Dream third. The winner is a real smart colt, and Doggets took no chances with him.

The selling race at a mile was, as usual, a scorcher. Lehman was the favorite at 5 to 5. Copyright and Cromwell to the front and heid an advantage of two lengths to the turn, where he was overhauled by The Swain a head only, while Copyright was a close fourth. A good, energetic rider on Copyright might have had a chance to win, Keefe being unable to keep the old horse straight, and he drifted about the wide stretches like a ship withous a rudder. Chugnut ran a grand race and closed up enough ground to make the talent remember him.

The last race at one mile a rudder. Chugnut ran a grand race and closed up enough ground to make the talent remember him.

The last race at one mile and a furloug had enly four starters, with Hornpipe an odds-on favorite. Prig led over the hill, where Eclipse and Hornpipe came along. Eclipse was on the outside, and when Sheedy attempted to ride him be bore into the rail and carried Hornpipe with him. All the way home Eclipse interfered with the favorite in spite of all that Sheedy eculd de to keep the old horse straight. In a hard driwe Eclipse was first home by a nose. Lanedale was a close third and was outrunning the others at the wire. After hearing the teatimony of Hamilton and Sheedy the stewards disqualified Eclipse, placed Hornpipe first, Lanedale second, and Prig third.

The following resolution was adopted by the stewards of the National Steeplechase Association at a meeting held yesterday afternoon: "The announcement of a steeplechase to be run Wednesday, May 27, for qualified hunters, was prematurely made, and at a meeting of the stewards of the National Steeplechase Association held at Morris Park this day it was decided to be inadvisable to give any race of that characeer during the present meeting."

The stewards also took action as to the running of Addie and Annie Hishop in the Westchester Hurdle Handleap, May 20, by suspending M. Lynch, the rider of Addie, for thirty days, and the Secretary was directed to notify Mr. Warnke to appear before them after the first race Wednesday, May 27.

The Messrs, Keene seem to have the best two-year-olds seen herabout this spring.

Eugene Leigh and his stable of thoroughbreds arrived at Morris Park on Friday, J. Gardner is riding and Fred Gerhard training for this table.

End of the Inter-club Wagon Races. A good crowd of New York and Brooklyn horsemen saw the Fleetwood trotter Governor win the deciding race in the inter-club series at Fleetwood Park yester-day, thus giving to his owner, John Mciuire, the trophy offered for horses of the 2:30 class. The trophy offered for horses of the 2:30 class. The brown gelding won so easily that the race carried little interest as compared with the contest of the double teams. Honest George, who has a record of 2:12½ in double harness with field Hamilin, was very unsteady with Neily Howard. The pair marie so many disastrous breaks that the even-going team, Jesse Vearance and Singleton defeated them in straight heats, in the last half of the last heat Honest George and Neily Howard trotted up the hill in 1:13, finishing at a strong 2:80 gait, less than a length heblind the winners. John McGuire, who drove the team for William Keily, afterward offered to match the pair against Jesse Yearance and Singleton for $500 a side, the race to take place next Saturday. James Young, the owner of the winners, asked for time to consider the chairenge. He had driven bit team from White Fighis to Fleetwood yeaterday. Summaries:

PRISCATON, May 28. Lawrenceville won the annual interscholastic tennis tournament here on the Princeton courts this afternoon. The other preparatory schools represented were: Klakimmetas, 5. x or North Military Academy, Centenary Collegiate insitute, and the Princeton Preparatory School. Only sincies were played. J. T. Beggs, who won the finals for Lawrenceville, was the victor in the Chicago interscholastic tournament heid last year.

The St. George's A. C. cricketers of New York re-ceived a severe set back at the hands of the Kearny C. C. on the latter's grounds yesterous. The local men won by a score of 51 to 87. Croll and Mo-Kenney bowled in fine form for the winners, and A. McKenney held his wicket in rare style for fif-teen runs. Armitage did some effective bowling for the visitors.

The Brooklyn Cricket Club played its opening championable match in the series of the New York Cricket Association yesterday at Prospect Park, and had the satisfaction of scoring a victory by nine runs over the Kings County St. George. A. Brown, H. Helms, and G. A. Tuttle showed good form at the bat for Brooklyn, while G. A. Storms did the best work for Kings County. The score was 74 to 53.

was 74 to 59.

The Columbia Cricket Club opened its championship season yesterday with a game against the Manhattan second eleven. The Columbias showed lack of practice and suffered a rather severe defeat by 120 runs. A. V. Clarke exhibited good style and action for the Manhattans, and compiled forty-eight in splendid form, while Dr. Torres, H. S. Tattersoll, and G. Rose also did well. Ine batting of A. F. Harding was by far the best effort for Columbia, He made twenty-two of the total of thirty-five. The score was 157 to 35.
